Dreams and Cultures

ASD's 19th Annual Dream Conference

Conference Information, Registration and Updates: www.asdreams.org/2002

REGISTER NOW! We expect all spaces at the conference to sell out prior to the conference.

We have chosen the theme DREAMS AND CULTURES for the 2002 Boston Conference in order to address ways in which dreaming is interwoven with culture, including cross-cultural studies of dreaming, effects of dreams on cultures, and effects of culture on dreams and dream content. In addition, we want to recognize the varied “cultures” which exist within the fields of dream study—for example, dream and sleep research, dreams and the arts, dreams and clinical practice.

The conference will begin on Saturday evening, June 15, with an engaging and lively invited panel reflecting the multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary richness of ASD. Speakers representing the Arts, Research, Clinical, Cross-Cultural Studies and Spiritual/Religious Studies will address the issue of “Why Dreams Matter.”

This event will be followed by the traditional opening reception that will offer conference attendees an opportunity not only to greet old friends and meet new attendees, but to continue discussions generated by the panel. The five themes discussed in the opening panel will be reflected in the following four days of the conference.

CE CREDIT HOURS Please see the back of this flyer. We are planning to offer CE credits.

DREAM-INSPIRED ART EXHIBIT This year’s juried exhibition of dream art will be a Web-based show premiering on the ASD Web site to coincide with the conference. Arts Chair Richard Russo will present a slide show celebrating the 2002 show, and conference attendees can view the show online in the Tufts’ computer room.

INSPIRING PRESENTERS: Learn from world-famous authors, psychotherapists, psychoanalysts, artists, educators, and researchers in the field of Dream Studies. Choose from over 100 separate presentations including professional training seminars and lectures, personal growth workshops, research symposia, multimedia events, poster sessions and hot-off-the-press presentations. Learn about the latest findings of dream researchers from all over the world.

BOOK SALES AND AUTHOR SIGNINGS Obtain personalized signed copies from renowned authors and researchers.

COSTUME DREAM BALL Delight and participate in the now-traditional costume party with attendees encouraged to come dressed or disguised as a character from one of their dreams. There will be dancing to a live band, special dream songs, costume contests and prizes, and a bit of dream mayhem. A much-loved conference tradition.

REGISTRATION You can register for the conference over the ASD Web site at www.ASDreams.org/2002 or by mailing in the registration form in this brochure. Please note that you must be preregistered for the conference by May 31. We regret that we cannot offer on-site registration this year as Tufts requires our final attendance count prior to the start of the conference. For attendees not staying on campus, please note that lunch and dinner are included in your registration fee.

FOR MORE INFORMATION Please go to the conference Web page at www.ASDreams.org/2002, call the toll-free conference information line (1-866-DREAM12), or e-mail ASDCentralOffice@aol.com.

More 2002 Conference Information

TRANSPORTATION AND PARKING Tufts Medford campus is just outside of Boston, and is easily accessible by car, subway, and bus. Driving from Boston's Logan Airport typically takes 30–45 minutes (depending on traffic), and the subway will take about one hour. If you are flying in, fares to Providence, Rhode Island (about an hour south of Boston) are often more reasonable than Logan and worth the extra travel time. Boston is also accessible via Amtrak train. Tufts Web site has excellent directions at <http://admissions.tufts.edu/conferences/summerdirect.html>, and subway and bus schedules can be found at www.mbta.com. Parking on campus is included in the conference registration fee.

CAMPUS HOUSING is in dorm rooms with either single or double occupancy. Please see the registration form on page 6 for additional details.

OTHER LODGING A list of off-campus lodging and other detailed information will be sent along with the acknowledgement of your registration form. Also check the ASD conference Web page—www.ASDreams.org/2002—where we will post off-campus lodging options.

The Association for the Study of Dreams

The Association for the Study of Dreams

ASD is a non-profit, international, multidisciplinary organization dedicated to the pure and applied investigation of dreams and dreaming. Its purposes are to promote an awareness and appreciation of dreams in both professional and public arenas; to encourage research into the nature, function, and significance of dreaming; to advance the application of the study of dreams; and to provide a forum for the eclectic and interdisciplinary exchange of ideas and information. Our membership consists of a broad spectrum of individuals with serious interests in dreams and includes those who study dreams professionally and those who make a personal study of dreams. Members engage in a wide range of dream-related activities, including academic research, clinical practice, incorporation of dreams into literature and art, and individual study. A variety of disciplines is represented among those who study dreams professionally: anthropology, comparative literature, education, fine arts, history, language studies, medicine, nursing, psychology, religion and spirituality, and social work.

ASD Ethical Policies

Participants and presenters agree to follow ASD's Ethics Statement and Dreamwork Ethics Statement which are posted on our Web site and will appear in the conference program. Our ethical policies emphasize respect, confidentiality, and sensitivity to individual and cultural differences. See our Web site for full details.
