The award is named in honor of the late Dr. Ernest Hartmann, a pioneer in dream research and the originator of the program.

New Award Announced! With the intent of promoting the IASD commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI), starting with the 2021-2022 contest a new annual $500 award for quantitative or qualitative student dream research related to cultural diversity has been added, open to student applicants who identify as members of ethnic groups that have been underrepresented in dream research. To learn more about the DEI Student Research Award, see the IASD Dreams & Ethnicity Portal.

TIME TO VOTE FOR IASD BOARD MEMBERS NOW!

It's time to vote! Each year, five Board members complete their three-year term as IASD Directors and our members vote for five new Directors. At the February 2022 Board meeting, the IASD Board of Directors approved a wonderful slate of seven candidates recommended by the Nominating Committee to run in IASD's election: Magloire Aguirre (Colombia), Kiran Anumalasetty (India), Christi Cervetti (USA), Katherine Lawson (USA), Sharon Pastore (USA), Rachel Raider (USA), Melanie Rosen (USA/Canada).

From these seven candidates, the five with the most votes will be elected to begin their three-year terms in July, 2022.

PLEASE NOTE: Only current members of IASD can vote for Board Members.

Because only members can vote in this election, members will receive regular e-mail VOTE reminders containing a password for the password-protected vote area of the web site. Please note: an electronic consent form must also be on file with IASD before voting.

The slate of Executive Officers for 2021 has also been approved: President, Michelle Carr; Board Chair, Joy Fatooh; Vice President, Sherry Puricelli; Secretary, Kelly Lydick; and Treasurer, Robert Waggoner. All Board Directors and IASD Executive Officers will begin their new terms in July 2022.

We look forward to receiving your vote. Thank you for helping us to create a wonderful and engaged team of people to head up IASD and enable our dream community to continue to grow and thrive.

The online course committee (OCC) offers online courses on various aspects of dreams and dreaming to those IASD members and nonmembers who would like to take these as part of an independent study program. The initial offerings are the foundation series courses titled The Science and Psychology of Dreaming and The Science of Lucid Dreaming. While these courses are offered as part of the IASD Dream Study Groups Program, the OCC is responding to requests to also offer them as stand-alone aspects of dreams.

Mohamed says, "In all my activities I talk about the various aspects of IASD and encourage interested candidates to be members, or at least to visit the website regularly to explore more about the association."

Visit the IASD Dreams and Ethnicity Portal

The IASD Dreams and Ethnicity Portal is offered by the IASD Diversity Task Force Advisory Committee (DAC) to encourage further understanding of authentic, culturally diverse perspectives on dreaming, and to promote increased ethnic diversity in all IASD functions: membership and recruitment, leadership positions, conferences and symposia, dream-studies research, publications, educational outreach, and public-relations efforts to advance dreamwork and the general understanding of dreams and dreaming.

The IASD Dreams and Ethnicity Portal includes: photos and bios of DAC members; videos, podcasts, and publications; information about IASD's DEI dream research grants, DEI student research awards; Culture-Keeper memberships; BIPOC conference scholarships and grants; and more.

Contact diversityresponse@asdreams.org to learn more about any of these initiatives, including special opportunities to sponsor scholarships and awards. And remember: That's the contact address for any comments on ethnic and racial Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in all IASD functions.

Thank you for your support!

In this issue Hot Off the Press focuses on our Keynote Speakers – this month we feature articles by Dr. Edward Bruce Bynum. This column publishes links to evidence-based scientific articles on dreams that are written for a non-research audience.

THE SCIENCE OF DREAMS AND DREAMING IN THE AFRICAN AMERICAN TRADITION BY EDWARD BRUCE BYNUM, PHD

An African American tradition of dream work and dream interpretation has a long history interweaving with other traditions and has specific roots in the continent and history of Africa itself. There are conceptions of the unconscious that parallel those of European traditions but in crucial ways are significantly different particularly in the perception of personhood and psychological boundary permeability in the dynamics of dreams and family life. These conceptions in many ways challenge traditional understandings of space and time but are also in keeping with the actual experience of dreaming and with certain quantum and relativistic conceptions of the relationships between space, time and, by implication, the range of consciousness itself. These are rooted in the African genesis of our species, both genetically and psychically, along with the shared reality of our neural inheritance. This paper is a conceptual overview of this tradition beginning with its cultural-historical roots to its clinical influence on practices today.

PSI, THE SHARED DREAMSCAPE AND THE FAMILY UNCONSCIOUS BY EDWARD BRUCE BYNUM

Family-related feelings and family consciousness are some of the most powerful influences on the psychological patterns of individuals. The influence of family patterns is extraordinarily powerful in its depth and intensity. Because of this, we frequently dream about the members of our families. It is quite common and normal to have dreams in which family members are prominently involved. The vast majority of these dreams are the usual dreams in which a parent or sibling is doing something that we generally recognize as their normal behavior. Sometimes, however, they are doing something unusual or even paradoxical in our dreams. Very often, extremely strong feelings and images occur which show us the emotions we feel toward these special people in our lives. The dream, with its strange contours and story-line, is the perfect field on which to portray "raw" emotions, and consequently, the dream can really be a pulse taken on the heartbeat of family life.
